RIDGEWAY TO HAVE CHARGE.

Reported He Will Direct Salt Lake End of Western Pacific.

End of Western Pacific.

Denver, July 14.—The Post says:
Actual construction on the projected Western Pacific railway has been delayed by the illness of Vice President Charles Schlacks of the Denver & Rio Grande railway, but the work will soon begin, according to advices received at the general offices of the Rio Grande, as President Jeffery and Vice President Schlacks, in whose hands George J. Gould has left the work of constructing the new road, have nearly completed all plans.

Mr. Gould sailed for Europe more than a month ago, but before leaving talked matters over with Mr. Jeffery and Mr. Schlacks and in a few weeks it is expected General Manager A. C. Ridgeway of the Denver & Rio Grande will be sent to Sait Lake to superintend the construction work.

WILL ADOPT STAFF SYSTEM.

Southern Pacific Will Put It in Over Mountains.

Francisco, July 14.-The Bulletin

San Francisco, July M.—The Bulletin says:

"By the installation of the staff signal system on the mountain division of the Sierra Nevada, the Southern Pacific will remove all danger of a possible accident on this line.

"The staff signal system has been worked up for some years on other roads, notably over the Raton Pass of the Santa Fe and has given complete satisfaction. The officials of the Santa Fe say that without this system they would have been unable to handle the traffic over the mountain.

neen inable to handle the traffic over the mountain.

"Some time ago James Agler, who was then with the Southern Pacific, was sent east with J. H. Wallace to make an inspection of the system, and his report was so satisfactory that General Manager E. E. Calvin has decided to put in the staff signal system on the road between Rocklin and Truckee.

"This system takes the place of a train order, and the officials in speaking of it declare that it is impossible for a collision to occur with this style of signaling."

COLLINS BUSY LOOKING UP LAW

Oregon Short Will Not Go Back to San Francisco Willingly.

PRTED IT WILL START UN. OTHERWISE VICTORIA COURT WILL LET HIM GO.

San Francisco, July 14.-District Atady for a big celebration, with will greet the tracklayers on a rranging for the extradition of George D. Collins, the fugitive lawyer, and being laid within thirteen miles hopes that upon the showing to be made the judicial and government aumade the judicial and government authorities at Victoria will decide to place Collins in the custody of Detective Gibson, to be brought back here for trial for alleged perjury.

The opinion of Byington at the present time is that it will not be necessary to send a number of witnesses to Victoria, or even to make the trip himself. He believes that the requisition papers, accompanied by the records or authenticated copies thereof and the depositions of the witnesses who appeared before the grand jury, will be sufficient to establish the regularity of the charge now pending against the fugitive barrister.

Proof is Wanted.

Proof Is Wanted. The demand for witnesses was made in a telegram from Chief Langley of Victoria, received here last night. Langley declared it would be necessary to have two experts on the California law of perjury, two witnesses to prove the perjury and the officer bearing the warrant. These persons, it was set forth, should be in Victoria next Wednesday merning.

Byington and Judge Lawlor conferred today in respect to the dispatch from Langley.

ferred today in respect to the dispatch from Langley.

Both of them were of the opinion that it would not be necessary to present such an elaborate array of proof to the courts at Victoria. In order to make certain, however, Judge Lawlor sent a telegram of inquiry addressed to Langley, in which he asked:

"Will the fact that an indictment has beeen found and bench warrant is-beeen found and bench warrant is-sued for Collins make it easier for him to be returned without the presence of the number of witnesses mentioned in your last telegram?

Collins Looking Up the Law.

Victoria, B. C., July 14.—George D. Collins, remanded for trial for extradition on a charge of perjury, alleged to have been committed in San Francisco, until the 19th inst., was released from the city jail this morning in care of a special officer detailed to guard him at the accused's expense. His wife, who spent the night in jail with him, joined her mother in the Driard hotel. Collins spent this morning in the library of the law courts looking up the law of Canada regarding perjury, to be in readiness for the trial of his case on the 19th, when witnesses are expected from San Francisco to give evidence against him.

Continued Until September Term of Court.

The trial of James M. Shockley on the charge of murder in the first degree was ued by Judge Armstrong yesterday in the criminal division of the district court to the September term. Shockley was convicted of the murder of two was convicted of the murder of two street car men in January, 1994, but the state subreme court granted him a reversal of the verdict and ordered a new trial on a technicality.

The two cases in which B. H. Schettler is charged with receiving deposits in his private bank knowing it to have been insolvent were also continued to the September term of the court.

Yesterday was arraignment day in the criminal division of the district court. Among those required to face the bar to answer to accusations was the notorious sam Grice, who was charged with breaking into a building at 429 West Second South street the night of May 26, 1995, with intent to steal. He entered a plea of not guilty.

Cornelius Smith, a negro, charged with foloniously wounding Maggie Mitchell, a cark-hued belle, was not ready to say whether he was guilty or not guilty. He was allowed until July 17 in willich, to make up his mind what he will say to the court.

Alna Jones, accused of assaulting Louis Lorenson with a rock, was also per-

Samuel Mackay has begun suit in the district court against the Itah Consolidated Mining company, in which he asks for $2,000 damages for injury to his crops, trees, bushes and livestock by fumes from the defendant company's smelter.

The supreme court held a brief session yesterday, at which the mandate of the United States supreme court affirming the Judgment of the state tribunal in the case of Glovanni Lavagnino, appellant, against Edmund H. Uhlig and others, respondents, was ordered entered of record. The court then adjourned until Oct. 7.

Stickney's "NEW Cigar

Particular smokers are already gathering great comfort from the new commercial treaty between the United States and Cuba.

That treaty reduced the duty on tobacco grown in Cuba and made it possible for us to produce a cigar of ten-cent quality for just half that price.

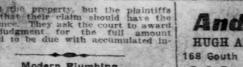

Stickney's "New Tariff" cigar for 5 cents could not have been made and sold for less than 10 cents straight before that treaty went into effect.

It's a rich, satisfying smoke that has its own characteristic flavor.

The "New Tariff" cigar is the product of a splendidly organized system that covers all the various processes of planting, cultivating, harvesting, sorting, grading, and more especially a wholly new and revolutionary process of blending the various qualities of leaf required for making a perfect cigar. This one process of scientific blending makes all the differprice between an ideal smoke and a poor one.
